

POWER TO ARREST TRAINING MANUAL

RELATIONS WITH LOCAL POLICE

PART B

Your job is made easier if you have a good working relationship with the local peace officers.

NEVER play “cop.” You don’t have the training for it and you don’t have the legal authority to do the same things a peace officer can do. Also, playing “cop” will antagonize the local law enforcement and hurt your company’s working relations with them.

DON’T MISLEAD PEOPLE. Because of your uniform, badge, hat or other gear, some people may think you are a peace officer. DON’T do anything to encourage this false idea. Whenever the opportunity arises, make it a point to let them know that you are NOT a peace officer, but a security guard.

DURING AN EMERGENCY, you may not interfere with peace officers who may be on the scene even if they are on the private property of your employer or client. You must cooperate to the extent possible with these peace officers or you may be subject to arrest. You cannot be lawfully ordered to apprehend a criminal offender at the scene as that is the duty of law enforcement officers. Your role remains the protection of the property belonging to your employer or client or the protection or defense of persons in his employ or patrons.

REMEMBER:

Your roles are different! A peace officer is charged with the enforcement of laws in a city or county. A security guard is responsible for protecting only the specific people or property he is hired to protect.

NOW, on another sheet of paper, answer the following questions:

- Q.7 A SECURITY GUARD'S LAWFUL AUTHORITY IS THE SAME AS THAT OF A PEACE OFFICER.
- A. Yes
 - B. No
- Q.8 IF DURING AN EMERGENCY ON THE EMPLOYER'S OR CLIENTS PROPERTY, A PEACE OFFICER INSTRUCTS A SECURITY GUARD TO STAND OUT OF THE WAY BEHIND A POLICE LINE, THE GUARD MUST:
- A. refuse as the guards duties are different from those of the peace officer.
 - B. cooperate and follow the lawful orders of the peace officer.
 - C. apprehend the persons violating the law on the employer's or client's property since the guard's duty is to protect the property and person of the employer or client.

POWER TO ARREST TRAINING MANUAL

OBSERVATION AND REPORT WRITING

PART C

STOP! LOOK! LISTEN! In a sense guards are paid observers. As a guard your role is PREVENTION. When an offense has been committed, it is your responsibility to OBSERVE and REPORT. You may be required to:

- report to the police
- write a report for your company
- testify as to what you saw, heard and did

FACT vs. CONCLUSIONS. You will need to know the difference between a fact and a conclusion.

- A FACT is what has actually happened, or is known to be true.
- A CONCLUSION is a judgement or opinion formed as a result of the facts.

Peace officers and your employer are interested only in the FACTS. With proper facts, they can reach their own conclusions. For example:

FACT: As I came around the corner, I saw two men kneeling at the door. One was holding a crowbar. The door had markings around the lock.

CONCLUSION: The men are burglars.

FACTS	CONCLUSIONS
➤ A man was walking inside of a fenced area, looking at the loading dock.	➤ A man was wandering around looking for something to steal.
➤ A young man was weaving back and forth and almost fell down twice in the two minutes I observed him.	➤ He was drunk and couldn't even walk right.
➤ A woman got into the car and tried to start it.	➤ She tried to steal the car.
➤ A girl picked up the necklace, examined it, placed in her purse, and walked directly to the north exit.	➤ After she stole the necklace, she tried to get away by the north exit.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT! It will take practice to become a good OBSERVER and to be able to REPORT facts instead of conclusions.

When you write a report, remember to include these six facts:

1. who
2. what
3. where
4. when
5. how
6. names of witnesses

POWER TO ARREST TRAINING MANUAL

AUTHORITY TO QUESTION AND A BASIS FOR MAKING DECISIONS

PART D

A GUARD'S AUTHORITY TO QUESTION PEOPLE

A security guard is an agent of the owner of the private property and, in this role, can exercise the owner's right to ask people on the (owner's) property what they are doing there, who they are, etc. If they refuse to answer the questions or if their answers are not satisfactory, the guard may ask them to leave. If they do not leave, the guard may arrest them for trespassing, and should call local law enforcement without unreasonable delay.

When on property and not employed as a guard, your authority is no greater than any other person's. On the other hand, your authority to question people is greater on property where you are on duty as a guard.

WHAT ARE THE PROPERTY OWNER'S RIGHTS?

The owner of the property has the right to establish certain rules on his property that may not be a part of the Penal Code. For instance, if an employee shows up for work drunk, he may be violating a company rule. The client may want the employee sent home or may intend to fire him. How this situation is handled is between the employer and the employee, and has nothing to do with the police or public law. A SECURITY GUARD MUST KNOW WHAT THE COMPANY POLICY STATES.

Trying to enforce company policy could, however, result in a violation of public law, by you or by the employee.

For example, if the employee is asked to leave and refuses, he may be arrested for violating the public law against trespassing. On the other hand, if the guard uses unnecessary force in removing the employee from the premises, the guard may be arrested for violating the public laws against assault and battery.

HOW SHOULD YOU HANDLE VIOLATIONS?

As a security guard, acting as a representative of the owner on the owner's private property, you can physically prevent a person from entering an area-but only as a last resort! Be sure to check with your employer regarding the way to handle a violation of company rules, as well as how to handle a violation of public laws.

PART D (contd.)

A BASIS FOR MAKING DECISIONS:

The very nature of security work requires security personnel to be constantly aware of their surroundings, the law, and the mission of private security in today's society.

Three factors to consider when making timely and reasonable decisions are:

FACTS:

Consider the FACTS involved in the incident. The facts of any incident will be learned by answering the following questions:

WHO? WHAT? WHEN? WHERE? HOW? and possibly WHY?

LAW:

Consider the LAWS that may apply to the incident. Has a city, county, state, or federal law been violated?

POLICY:

Consider any POLICY that may apply to the incident. What is the POLICY of your employer, client, or local law enforcement agencies regarding this incident?

INSPECTIONS

PART E

WHAT IS AN INSPECTION?

As a security guard, your employer may enlist your assistance in conducting inspections of plant employees. This is not a search. Always make sure the employer has notified the employees first. Such inspections are often conducted at the end of the work day by looking into employees' cars, lunch pails, purses, or tote bags to make sure unauthorized items are not being take off the premises.

WHAT IS AN INSPECTION?

An inspection is always conducted with the employees' cooperation.

For example, when you want to look inside a lunch pail, purse, or tote bag-ask the employee to open it up for you to look inside. If you can't see the contents because something is in the way, ask the employee to remove the obstruction. If the employee tries to hand the item to you, politely refuse. NEVER TOUCH THE EMPLOYEE OR HANDLE THE EMPLOYEES PROPERTY.

WHAT IS AN INSPECTION?

Understand company policy. Generally, if an employee does not cooperate, you should record:

- date, time, and location
- name
- physical description
- badge ID number
- license number of any vehicles involved
- then make a full report, in writing, to the client and/or your employer

 - B. Decline to take it and instead ask him to open it so you can inspect the contents.
 - C. Take it but have him open it.
- Q. 17 YOU ARE WALKING THROUGH THE PARKING LOT AND OBSERVE COMPANY EQUIPMENT IN THE BACK SEAT OF A CAR THROUGH A CLOSED BUT UNOBSTRUCTED WINDOW OF THE VEHICLE. YOU MAY:

 - B. enter the vehicle to determine if the equipment is stolen and if so may take it to your employer or client.

POWER TO ARREST TRAINING MANUAL

THE SECURITY GUARD'S LEGAL RESPONSIBILITIES AND LIABILITIES

PART F

Actions based on poor judgement can lead to legal problems for both you and your employer. You must, by law avoid certain actions. Legal responsibilities and liabilities that affect you are presented in this section.

CRIMINAL LIABILITIES

WHO HAS THE POWER TO ARREST?

The authority to arrest is given to all private persons. A security guard arrests with the same power as any other private person. However, because the security officer wears a uniform and badge, that can lead to misunderstanding and abuse.

WHAT IS AN ARREST?

An arrest is a form of lawful control by one person over the actions or movements of another. An arrest is taking a person into custody IN A CASE and IN THE MANNER authorized by law. An arrest may be made by a peace officer or a private person.

WHAT IS CRIMINAL LIABILITY?

Crimes are generally defined in penal statutes of a state, or the ordinances of local cities or counties. All persons are expected to obey these laws. Anyone who violates a criminal law is subject to a fine, and/or a term in jail, or prison, or depending on the type of crime. The potential for punishment as a result of violating a criminal law is called CRIMINAL LIABILITY. Some acts by security guards for which criminal liability is possible include:

➤ INTIMIDATION:

Threatening physical harm or otherwise frightening people when they do not cooperate or confess to a crime.

(Revised 12/91)

POWER TO ARREST TRAINING MANUAL

PART F (contd.)

WHAT IS CRIMINAL LIABILITY? (contd.)

➤ EXCESSIVE PHYSICAL FORCE:

Where an arrest is made, the law allows only the use of physical force which is reasonable or necessary to restrain the suspect if he is resisting, in order to make the arrest. Where more force is used than that which the law allows, the arresting party is said to be using “excessive force” and may be held criminally as well as civilly liable. An example of excessive force is the discharge of a firearm in shooting a suspect in order to protect personal property. By law, deadly force is allowed only to protect lives.

➤ USE OF UNAUTHORIZED DEADLY WEAPONS:

Becoming registered as a security guard DOES NOT ALONE entitle you to carry a weapon. Some weapons such as knives, brass knuckles, nunchakus, or sawed-off shotguns may not be carried by security guards.

➤ UNLAWFUL USE OF DEFENSIVE WEAPONS:

Handguns and batons may not be carried by security guards unless authorized by the State Department of Consumer Affairs, Bureau of Security and Investigative Services. Weapons are allowed only after the security guard receives bureau-recognized training and appropriate permits. Tear-gas permits are controlled by the State Department of Justice.

➤ FALSE ARREST:

MISDEMEANOR ARREST - a private person making a misdemeanor arrest may be found criminally liable for a false arrest if the arrest is made and the arresting party did not actually observe the suspect commit the misdemeanor in his presence.

FELONY ARREST - a private person making a felony arrest may be found criminally liable for a false arrest if the arrest is made or caused to be made by others and the arresting party does not have reasonable cause to believe that the person arrested committed the felony.

(Revised 12/91)

POWER TO ARREST TRAINING MANUAL

PART F (contd.)

EVERYONE HAS CIVIL LIABILITY

The legal term “PARTY” can be a person, company, or organization.

When one party believes it has been injured, damaged, or wronged by another party, it may make a lawful claim for damages.

The claim or “LAW SUIT” is presented to a civil court where both parties may explain their positions to a judge or jury.

A court judge may decide whether or not one party in a law suit has damaged another.

If damages are due, the court will decide, after a trial, how much money must be paid by one party to another.

The responsibility for the things we do, or fail to do, with the possibility of being sued by another is called “CIVIL LIABILITY.”

WHY IS YOUR EMPLOYER ALSO RESPONSIBLE FOR YOUR ACTIONS?

As a security guard, you are a representative of your employer. Therefore, any negligence or wrongful acts committed by you may also cause your employer and the client to be held responsible. Suits may be brought against you (the security guard) your employer, and/or a client.

FOR EXAMPLE:

A security guard makes a false arrest. The person arrested may file a civil suit for damages against the guard, his employer, and all of those believed to be responsible.

Even if the civil suit against you (the security guard) or your employer fails, the action may be costly for you and your employer to defend.

(Revised 12/91)

POWER TO ARREST TRAINING MANUAL

PART F (contd.)

WHEN SHOULD A SECURITY GUARD ARREST?

A security guard who is expected to make arrests should receive explicit instructions and training on how to do so. Training should make clear the circumstances under which an arrest can be made and the procedure for making it, so as to minimize civil liability.

As a security guard, you should work primarily in a preventive role. Use good judgement and exercise caution when faced with an arrest situation.

Every person must be accountable for his actions. Acts of a security guard in an arrest situation are easy to defend when good judgement and good faith have been used. A security guard must not be afraid to act in an arrest situation, but must use restraint and good judgement.

POWER TO ARREST TRAINING MANUAL

FACTORS TO CONSIDER BEFORE MAKING AN ARREST

PART G

ARE SECURITY GUARDS REQUIRED TO MAKE ARRESTS?

At no time are you, as a security guard, obligated to make an arrest. You may be at the scene when a violation occurs, but you do not have to make an arrest.

WHAT ARE YOUR PRIMARY RESPONSIBILITIES?

Your first responsibility is prevention. After a crime has been committed, your responsibility is to observe and report.

The purpose of this training is not to encourage you to make more arrests, but to teach you the law concerning arrest, so you will know what you can and cannot do under the law.

WHAT FACTORS SHOULD YOU CONSIDER?

In addition to the law, there are other important factors you should consider before making an arrest. Here are a few:

1. PHYSICAL SIZE. Is the suspect bigger or stronger than you are? In better physical condition? Younger?
2. WEAPONS. Is the suspect armed? Could he be carrying a concealed weapon?
3. ESCAPE. If you do not make an arrest at this moment, will the suspect get away? Not just leave the scene - but get away completely? If you get a good description and call the police WITHOUT DELAY, the police may be able to make the arrest.
4. TYPE OF OFFENSE. Is the offense major or minor? You should be more concerned with major offenses. A person setting fire on a loading dock is a more likely candidate for arrest than kids climbing a fence to steal apples from the client's orchards.
5. RELATION TO YOUR JOB. Does the offense relate to property or persons you were hired to protect? As a good citizen, you want to uphold the law, but your first duty is to the client. After all, your employer is paying you!

POWER TO ARREST TRAINING MANUAL

ARRESTABLE OFFENSES

PART H

WHAT ARE THE THREE CATEGORIES OF ARRESTABLE OFFENSES?

The Penal Code defines criminal offenses. This program will not attempt to cover all of them, but will cover many of the most common ones. The Penal Code classifies crimes into three categories: Infractions, Misdemeanors, and Felonies.

INFRACTIONS

Infractions are offenses that are punishable only by a modest monetary fine, usually not exceeding $250.00. There is normally no jail sentence imposed for committing an offense which is defined as an infraction, and the person committing the offense is normally cited at the scene in a fashion similar to the issuance of a traffic citation. The offender is normally not taken into custody or arrested but merely detained for purposes of issuing the citation. For the most part, infractions are reserved for specified traffic violations such as speeding (California Vehicle Code Section 40000.1), though other statutes impose infraction penalties as well (smoking on public transportation, Health and Safety Code Section 25949.8; littering public property, Penal Code Section 374.4.) Because most infractions occur on public property, public highways and roadways, or in areas not routinely patrolled by private security most security guards will not be confronted with situations involving the violations of laws which carry infraction penalties. Nor are private security guards normally authorized to issue citations, commonly known as notices to appear in court. For this reason, enforcement of laws involving infractions are usually reserved for law enforcement officers.

PART H (contd.)

MISDEMEANORS

Misdemeanors are offenses that are punishable by a fine and/or term in the county jail. The following two conditions must exist in order for you to arrest a person on a misdemeanor charge:

1. The misdemeanor must have been attempted or committed.
2. It must have taken place (happened) in your presence.

The following are common misdemeanors (PC stands for Penal Code):

- ASSAULT (240 PC) An unlawful attempt coupled with the present ability to commit a violent injury upon the person of another.
- BATTERY (242 PC) Any willful and unlawful use of force or violence upon another person.
- DISTURBING THE PEACE (415 PC) Unlawfully fighting in a public place or challenging to fight; malicious and willful disturbances of another by loud and unreasonable noise; using offensive words to provoke a violent reaction.
- INDECENT EXPOSURE (314 PC) The act of exposing the person or private parts thereof in any public place where other persons may be offended.
- LITTERING (374 PC) Throwing waste matter in a place other than designated containers.
- PETTY THEFT (488 PC) The taking of property of a value of $400.00 or less (this is often the case in shoplifting.)
- TRESPASSING (602 PC) Entering posted property without permission. Damaging or destroying property, or refusing to leave when asked by the owner or his agent.
- VANDALISM (594 PC) Maliciously defacing, damaging, or destroying property.

PART H (contd.)

FELONIES

A felony is a more serious offense that is punishable by a sentence of death, imprisonment in a jail or prison, and/or a fine.

The following two conditions must exist in order to arrest a person on a felony charge:

1. The felony must have been committed.
2. It must have reasonable cause to believe that the person being arrested actually committed the crime. Such reasonable cause must be based on evidence linking the person to the crime. Examples of such evidence may include physical evidence such as articles of clothing belonging to the suspect and left at the scene of the crime, or testimonial evidence such as observations by the guard or by other persons which are told to the guard in which the suspect was observed committing the crime.

The following are common felonies (PC stands for Penal Code):

- ASSAULT WITH A DEADLY WEAPON (245 PC) Assault of a person by another with a deadly weapon or instrument or by any means of force likely to produce great bodily injury.
- ARSON (451 PC) The willful and unlawful setting of a fire.
- GRAND THEFT (487 PC) The taking of money, labor, or real or personal property of a value exceeding $400.00 or the taking of property from the person of another.
- BURGLARY (459 PC) The entering of the residence or property of another with the intent to commit grand theft, petty theft, or any felony.
- KIDNAPPING (207 PC) Taking and transporting a person against his will.
- ROBBERY (211 PC) By force or intimidation, taking personal property from a person or from the immediate presence of a person against that person's will.

POWER TO ARREST TRAINING MANUAL

PRIVATE PERSONS ARREST

PART I

Although your normal responsibilities include the preventing of problems and observation of detail after an offense, there may be rare occasions when you consider it necessary to arrest. Every company in the private security industry has different policies about when and if you should arrest. If you don't know your company's policy, find out.

A guard's legal powers to arrest are no greater than those of any other private citizen. An arrest made by such a private party is commonly known as a "citizen's arrest."

According to the Penal Code Section 834, "An arrest is taking a person into custody in a manner authorized by law." Penal Code Section 834 also goes on to state that, "An arrest may be made by a peace officer or by a private person."

Penal Code Section 837 specifies the conditions under which you, as a private person, may make an arrest. "A private person may arrest another.

1. For a public offense committed or attempted in his presence.
2. When the person arrested has committed a felony, although not in his presence.
3. When a felony has been, in fact, committed and he has reasonable cause for believing the person arrested to have committed it."

In making your decision to arrest someone, you must first determine whether the offense is a felony or a misdemeanor.

EXAMPLE OF A MISDEMEANOR OFFENSE

If you observed a person picking up a rock and throwing it through a plate glass window, that person could be arrested. Breaking a window is a misdemeanor offense and you know that he committed the offense because you saw him do it.

(Revised 12/91)

POWER TO ARREST TRAINING MANUAL

PART I (contd.)

On the other hand, consider this case: You hear a plate glass window break and rush to the front of the building only to see a group of teenagers laughing and milling around. Two of them point to one of the others and say, "He did it." In this instance, you would not have grounds for an arrest. It appears an offense has been committed, but you did not actually see the person doing it.

REMEMBER:

To arrest someone for the commission of a misdemeanor, the offense must be
1) committed, or 2) attempted in your presence!

EXAMPLE OF A FELONY OFFENSE

You are patrolling an apartment complex and you see an apartment door open. You look inside and see that the place has been burglarized. As you leave the apartment, you see two men carrying large bundles of assorted valuables to a waiting van. They see you and speed up. You call for them to halt, but they load up the van and are in the process of getting into the front seat. You are justified in questioning these men.

On the other hand, consider this: You are told by an apartment dweller that he was just burglarized and you see two men walking towards a van with the motor running. The men look around suspiciously but are carrying nothing. You should get descriptions and observe and report.

REMEMBER:

To arrest someone for committing a felony, 1) the felony must have been committed and 2) you must have reasonable cause for believing that the person you are arresting actually committed the felony.

POWER TO ARREST TRAINING MANUAL

MAKING AN ARREST

PART J

THE SUSPECT

According to our legal system, a person is innocent until proven guilty. It is up to the court to decide if a person is guilty-not the police, not the district attorney, and not a private person. When a person is arrested, he is called a suspect. He is then considered a suspect until the court finds him guilty or innocent. Therefore, do not refer to an arrested person as the “criminal,” “offender,” “robber,” “murderer,” “burglar,” or by any other term which implies guilt. You can say “he,” “she,” “they,” “this person,” or “the suspect” since none of these terms imply guilt.

MAKING AN ARREST

If you should happen to be in a situation where an arrest is called for, you should tell the person that he is under arrest and what the charges are, and your authority to make the arrest. Once you say “You are under arrest for burglary,” the suspect may or may not cooperate. If the suspect resists and tries to escape, you must then decide whether or not to use reasonable force. You may ask as many persons as you think necessary to help you in making the arrest.

USE OF FORCE IN AN ARREST

If a suspect resists arrest, you are allowed to use reasonable force to subdue him. Reasonable force is that degree of force that is not excessive and is appropriate in protecting oneself or one’s property. If the suspect submits willingly, no force is necessary. If a suspect should resist arrest, remember that the only force allowed is that which is reasonable and necessary to overcome the resistance.

WHAT IS EXCESSIVE FORCE?

Examples of excessive force include knocking unconscious an unarmed suspect when he is only trying to leave the scene. Handcuffs may be used on persons who have resisted or on suspects you think may be trying to resist or escape.

(Revised 12/91)

POWER TO ARREST TRAINING MANUAL

PART J (contd.)

WHAT IS DETAINMENT?

A person who voluntarily responds to questioning and is not actually restrained (i.e., free to go at any time) is considered to be detained. A person may be detained by the police for further questioning in an investigation, and that person is not necessarily under arrest. The police have the authority to detain a person against his will and still not arrest that person. Security guards do not have the authority to detain a person against their will except under Penal Code Section 490.5 which is covered in detail further on in the study manual. (MERCHANTS PRIVILEGE RULE)

WHEN IS A SUSPECT CONSIDERED TO BE UNDER ARREST?

It should be clear to the suspect that he is under arrest after you have told the suspect of your intention, cause, and authority to arrest him. However, there are also other actions that may make a suspect feel he is under arrest. If, because of your uniform, badge, hat, or verbal actions, the suspect concludes he must answer your questions or is not free to walk away, he may justifiably claim he was under arrest.

WHAT IS THE RIGHT WAY TO APPROACH SUSPECTS?

Guilt by association is not a lawful way to make arrests. Let's look at an example:

It is 11:00 p.m. and a guard is making his rounds of the plant when he finds Gate No. 5 open. There are pry marks on the chain that normally holds the gate shut. About 50 yards from the gate is an old pickup truck parked by the side of the road. The hood is up, and two men are bent over looking at the motor. The guard walks over and says, "All right, you guys. What are you doing here?" One of the men responds by saying, "What's it to you pal?" The guard answers angrily, "Look, you better tell me what you're doing here or you're in trouble!" Neither man replies. One of them gets into the driver's seat and turns over the engine. The guard then asks, "Didn't you hear what I said?" The other man says, "Leave us alone." The guard moves to the front of the truck and grabs the man's arm, stating, "You guys aren't going anywhere until you answer a few questions."

(Revised 12/91)

POWER TO ARREST TRAINING MANUAL

ANALYSIS

Finding the gate open with pry marks on the chain does not necessarily mean that a crime has been committed. There are a number of possible explanations short of forced entry. Next, there is nothing to tie the two men to forcing the gate open except that their truck was parked nearby. The guard cannot demand that the men answer his questions. The guard's attitude, tone of voice, uniform, and badge could easily have made the men believe that they were being arrested. If the guard refused to let them leave and if it turned out they had nothing to do with forcing the gate, the men could sue the guard for false arrest and for battery, because the guard grabbed the man's arm.

WHAT THE GUARD SHOULD HAVE DONE

First, he should have examined the condition of the gate carefully, recorded the license number of the truck, and obtained a description of the two men. Next, the guard should have secured the gate and reported its condition to his supervisor, being careful to watch for other suspicious activity. The guard may or may not decide to talk with the two men. He might enter into a friendlier conversation with them by asking if they had seen anyone near the gate. If they are not cooperative, there is nothing the guard can do except observe closely. The guard should never touch another person except when reasonable force is necessary when placing him under arrest.

A BETTER APPROACH

Remember the part about friendly conversation? Although you cannot demand answers from a person, you can always engage them in casual conversation. Here is a better approach:

"Hi! Got car troubles?" One of the men replies, "Yeah! This darn thing shorts out every once in a while." The guard then asks, "Say have you seen anybody around the gate?" The men reply, "No, we haven't seen anyone except you." The guard says, "How long have you been here?" "Oh, maybe five minutes." "Well, thanks for your help. If you need to call for road service, I can make the call for you." "Thanks anyway, but we'll get it going." The guard then walks away.

The security guard may not have gotten much information, but at least he had a chance to observe each man closely and check their activities without running the risk of bad public relations or a false-arrest suit.

 - D. Any of the above.

POWER TO ARREST TRAINING MANUAL

SEARCHING THE SUSPECT

PART K

You should avoid searching a suspect. Laws protect the rights of suspects who are being searched. This section explains what you should and should not do.

You are not allowed to search someone in order to find evidence for making an arrest.

When you see someone steal something you have been hired to protect, you may first arrest the person by telling him he's under arrest for theft. Then you may physically detain him for the police to search him. You should not give the suspect an opportunity to dispose of any items taken.

If the suspect tells you he's going to shoot you, and you have every reason to believe he has a weapon, then you have the right to search him. If you have reasonable cause to believe you are in physical danger by detaining the suspect, you may search him for weapons only.

REMEMBER

You may search for only one thing - WEAPONS.

METHOD OF "FRISK" SEARCHING FOR WEAPONS

A frisk is nothing more than a quick check to see if a suspect has a concealed weapon. This should occur after the suspect is arrested. To frisk a suspect, follow these steps:

- A. stand behind the suspect
- B. run your hands over the outside of the clothing
- C. pat those areas where a weapon might be concealed
- D. remove anything that feels like a weapon

CAUTION

Do not remove any article that does not feel like a weapon.

(Revised 12/91)

POWER TO ARREST TRAINING MANUAL

PART K (contd.)

IMPORTANT

Always use direction when touching a suspect of the opposite sex. Whenever possible have a member (security guard) of the same sex conduct the frisk, and always try to have witnesses to the frisk. STAY ALERT! Don't relax after a frisk or take your eyes off the suspect after you have completed the frisk. He may still have a weapon you did not find!

Some of the places where a suspect might conceal a weapon are shown in the illustration on the next page. The frisk should be done quickly, and if possible, with another guard standing by. Practice the frisk on a partner by having him conceal a small object. During a frisk, you may also discover illegal items called contraband. The most common type of contraband is narcotics. If you discover contraband while you are frisking for concealed weapons, leave it alone and tell the police when they arrive.

CHECK UP NO. 12

NOW, on another sheet of paper, answer the following questions:

Q. 44 ACCORDING TO THE TEXT, YOU SHOULD:

- A. not search a suspect unless you have reason to believe he has a weapon.
- B. search all suspects immediately.
- C. search only persons suspected of major crimes.
- D. search only those persons with a police record.

Q. 45 WHAT MUST YOU DO BEFORE YOU FRISK A SUSPECT?

- A. Handcuff the suspect.
- B. Arrest the suspect.
- C. Tie the suspect's hands over his head.
- D. Write you report.

Q. 46 A FRISK BY A SECURITY GUARD IS A SEARCH FOR:

- A. weapons only.
- B. stolen property only.
- C. weapons or stolen property.
- D. anything.

ILLUSTRATION OF THE FRISK

POWER TO ARREST TRAINING MANUAL

SEARCHING A SUSPECT UNDER THE MERCHANT'S PRIVILEGE RULE

PART L

The Merchant's Privilege Rule is found in the California Penal Code Section 490.5. Subdivisions (f) and (g) of this statute provide legal authority for a merchant or their employee or agent, including a security officer to detain persons suspected of shoplifting in a retail store. In part, the law says that:

“(f)(1) A merchant may detain a person for a reasonable time for the purpose of conducting an investigation in a reasonable manner whenever the merchant has probable cause to believe the person to be detained is attempting to unlawfully take or has unlawfully taken merchandise from the merchant's premises.

(2) In making the detention a merchant may use a reasonable amount of non-deadly force necessary to protect himself or herself and to prevent escape of the person detained or the loss of property.

(3) During the period of detention any items which a merchant has probable cause to believe are unlawfully taken from the premises of the merchant and which are in plain view may be examined by the merchant for purposes of ascertaining the ownership thereof.

(4) A merchant or an agent thereof, having probable cause to believe the person detained was attempting to unlawfully take or has taken any item from the premises, may request the person detained to voluntarily surrender the item. Should the person detained refuse to surrender the item of which there is probable cause to believe has been unlawfully taken from the premises, or attempted to be unlawfully taken from the premises, a limited and reasonable search may be conducted by those authorized to make the detention in order to recover the item. Only packages, shopping bags, handbags or other property in the immediate possession of the person detained, but not including any clothing worn by the person, may be searched pursuant to this subdivision. Upon surrender or discovery of the item, the person detained may also be requested, but may not be required, to provide adequate proof of his or her true identity.”

PART L (contd.)

The important things to remember when working for a retail merchant are:

1. That a suspected shoplifter can be detained where there is reasonable cause to believe that the suspect has unlawfully taken or attempted to take an item from the store. This is not an arrest, but merely a detention in order to investigate further the reasonable belief that a theft has occurred or was attempted.
2. That reasonable non-deadly force may be used to carry-out the detention where the suspect resists.
3. That following a request to surrender the item believed taken, and if the suspect refuses, a reasonable and limited search of the suspects belongings may be made (limited to shopping bags, handbags, and other items) in the immediate possession of the suspect, but not a search of clothing or apparel worn by the suspect.
4. That following the detention, and if it is established that shoplifting has occurred or was attempted, and if criminal charges are to be pursued, the suspect must be given over to law enforcement authorities. This must occur within a reasonable period of time following detention.

POWER TO ARREST TRAINING MANUAL

AFTER THE ARREST

PART M

WHAT SHOULD A SECURITY GUARD DO AFTER AN ARREST?

After you arrest someone, you must turn him over to the police WITHOUT DELAY. You should write down the time you (1) made the arrest, and (2) called the police. If you delay too long in calling the police, you may be guilty of an illegal detention even though you might have spent the time questioning the suspect.

WHAT IS REASONABLE DELAY?

Reasonable delays, however, are usually acceptable. For example, if you had to walk a half mile to get to the nearest phone or wait at your post for your partner to relieve you, these would be considered reasonable delays. However, if a phone is handy and you wait an hour before calling, this could be considered an unreasonable delay.

WHAT IS THE PEACE OFFICERS RESPONSIBILITY?

If you have made a legal arrest, the police, by law, must take custody of the suspect. Custody means “to take charge of.” If the suspect is charged with a serious offense, the police will probably take him down to the station to take fingerprints and make a photo identification. Also, they might not release the suspect unless bail is posted.

Taking custody of suspects charged with less serious offenses may not involve going to the police station. The police may choose simply to cite and release the suspect pending a hearing. This is also considered “taking into custody.” The police will take down a statement of what happened, so you should take care to observe as many factual details as possible. The police will also investigate to collect evidence. You may also be asked to testify at the trial.

POWER TO ARREST TRAINING MANUAL

PART M (contd.)

PRIVATE PERSON'S ARREST - MISDEMEANOR

If the suspect is charged with a misdemeanor (such as trespassing, petty theft, or disturbing the peace), you will be recorded as the person making the arrest. You cannot arrest a suspect for a misdemeanor unless you actually see a violation happen.

If you arrest a suspect, you must call the police. When they arrive, turn the suspect over to them and make your statement.

Other things you will be expected to do if you make a misdemeanor arrest include:

1. meeting with the district attorney (usually the next day) to discuss the case and give a sworn statement regarding what happened.
2. attending the suspect's hearing.
3. testifying at the suspect's trial.
